SPRING 09
WORKSHOP

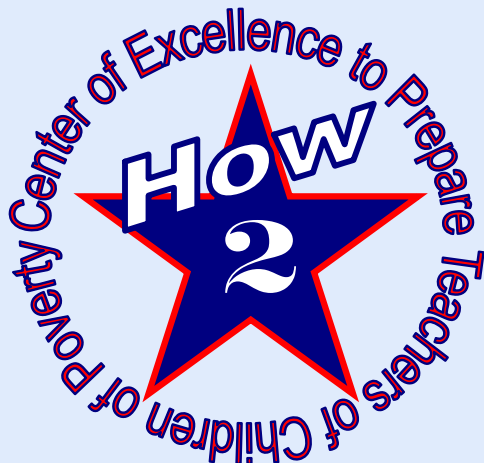

Saturday, January 24, 2009

8:00 am – 12:00 pm

Chapman Auditorium, Francis Marion University

The theme of the Spring 2009 Workshop is “How 2: Classroom Strategies that Work!” The workshop is designed for educators who are interested in research-based, practical classroom strategies and best practices as they relate to the needs and abilities of children of poverty. The program includes a keynote address and more than sixteen sessions in the following areas:

- Culture of Poverty
- Assessment and Evaluation
- Language Development and Literacy
- Curriculum Development and Implementation
- Metacognition: Strategies that Promote Thinking Skills
- Differentiated Instruction
- Classroom Management and Student Motivation
- School, Family, and Community Connections: Strategies that Promote Partnerships

CLASSROOM STRATEGIES THAT WORK!

Keynote Speaker
Richard A. Pringle

Success Beyond Your
Wildest Dreams:
Engaging All Students
with Fairness, Respect, and Compassion

8:30 am – 9:30 am

Richard Pringle is an assistant principal at Lancaster High School in Lancaster, South Carolina. He earned a master's degree in educational administration from the University of South Carolina. Partly because of his childhood growing up in rural Manning, SC, he has recognized the need to speak to future educators and current teachers about poverty issues.

Regionally recognized for his reputation for engaging all students with fairness, respect, and compassion, Mr. Pringle will return to the basics and emphasize practical strategies proven to be effective in teaching children of poverty. His message—both the funny and the serious aspects—is that any teacher can reach any child.

READistribute: Books for Brains

Support the COE Professional Organization's spring service project...a book drive! Donations of new and gently used books for early childhood, elementary, middle, and high school students will be accepted. All donations will benefit children of poverty in the Pee Dee region. Members of the COE Professional Organization will collect your book donations in the registration area at the COE Spring Workshop. So spread the word to your colleagues and help us collect many great books for children of poverty in the Pee Dee region! Bring your donations to the COE Spring Workshop on Saturday, January 24, 2009.

If you have questions about the book drive, please contact Dr. Janis McWayne at 843.661.1467 or jmcmwayne@fmarion.edu.
